POINTS TO INVESTIGATE REALTIVE TO COAL SHIPMENT

1. During a storm when the waves are so high in the waters near the Washington Coast, what assurance is there that coal dust will not wound up in the air? I came to the islands to breathe fresh clean air, because I have asthma.
2. Also during storms, what assurance is there that no coal dust will get in the waters of Puget Sound and the relative near coastal waters? Also, what assurance is there that these high waves will not cause the tankers to lose their load in the water?
3. What assurance that this many vessels passing through Puget Sound are not going to interrupt other vessel traffic both commercial and tourism?
4. Finally, what will be the effect of the increased railroad traffic in the rail systems traversing through Mt. Vernon and Burlington as well as Bellingham?
5. Has the Chamber of Commerce or any other such group done any studies as to the final impact on tourism? If so, what are the results.

Sincerely,

Tammy Grantham
